The Lord GOD is my help,
therefore I am not disgraced;
I have set my face like flint,
knowing that I shall not be put to shame.

-Isaiah 50, 7.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

In this holiest of weeks, it is incumbent upon us to honor the Lord with solemn rites that are very unique to the tradition of Christian expression of penance and thanksgiving. St. Leo the Great preaches well:

And, therefore, because none of us, dearly beloved, is so perfect and holy as not to be able to be more perfect and more holy, let us all together, without difference of rank, without distinction of desert, with pious eagerness pursue our race from what we have attained to what we yet aspire to, and make some needful additions to our regular devotions. For he that is not more attentive than usual to religion in these days, is shown at other times to be not attentive enough. (Sermon XL, Lent, II.)

This Palm Sunday, as with all celebrations of the Lord's Passion opens up for us the opportunity to look to a fruitful end of our Lenten penances while simultaneously rejoicing in the Lord's presence with us in the sacrament of thanks, the Eucharist.

Let our devotion to the Lord through our traditions and the good spiritual work we have accomplished this Lent guide our minds and souls into the upright observance of the holy celebrations to come.

May God bless you,
